

Bright Future

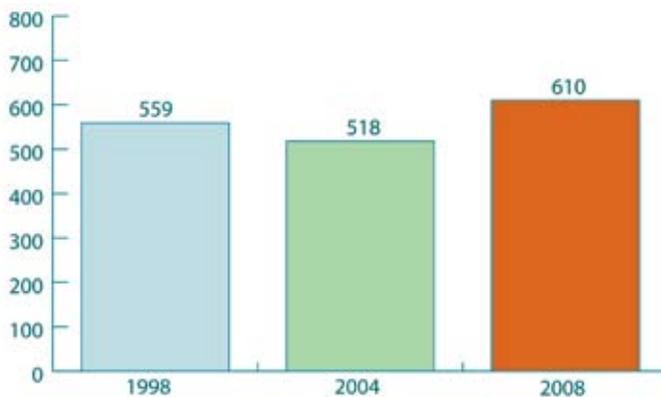

Working to Ensure a Healthy Community

Adolescent Pregnancy Prevention in Spartanburg County

Bold leadership and innovation, world-class medical facilities, high-end manufacturing companies, excellent colleges and a thriving creative class continue to make Spartanburg County a vibrant place to live, raise a family and work. But Spartanburg County, like many communities, faces its share of challenges --including adolescent pregnancy. Today, our business leaders, parents, volunteers and young people are responding to this challenge in many different ways. One way is by speaking out about the importance of teen prevention through a public awareness campaign. We hope this report, told through their voices, will inspire you to join this effort to help prevent adolescent pregnancy.

Teen Birth Rate (Ages 10-19), Spartanburg County^a

Percent Change in
Teen Birth Rate
Spartanburg County,
2004-2008^a:

+14.5%

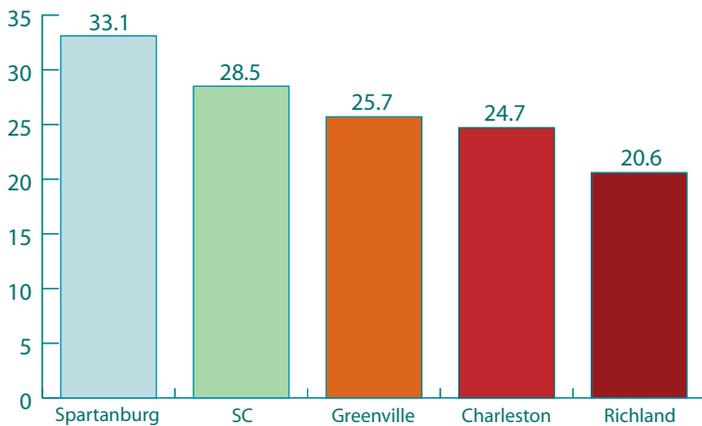

For more information, visit www.speakoutspartanburg.com or call (864) 573-9542

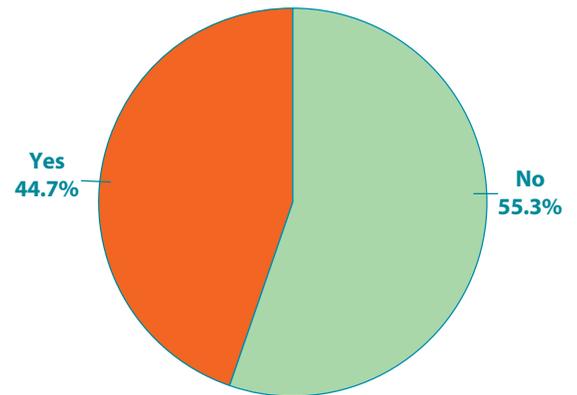

Spartanburg County's youth are our future, and this future depends upon the support, opportunities, and relationships we can provide each and every young person. "All of us want our children to have great educations, to get good jobs, and to have stable family lives"¹ "[Teen pregnancy prevention] is one of the most upstream interventions that we can make that might help people lead better lives in Spartanburg County."² Becoming a parent too early in life not only makes it more difficult for teens to complete high school, obtain good jobs, and achieve their life goals, it affects the future prospects of their children. "With 700 babies being born to teen moms per year in Spartanburg, that's enough to fill up 35 kindergarten classrooms...these are the children who are going to be our future."³

- 1. Kathy Dunleavy, CEO, United Way of the Piedmont
- 2. Alex Evins, Attorney
- 3. Norman Chapman, CEO, Inman Mills

2008 Birth Rates (Ages 10-19), Statewide & Selected Cities^a

Teens who report having had sexual intercourse^b

For more information, visit www.speakoutspartanburg.com or call (864) 573-9542

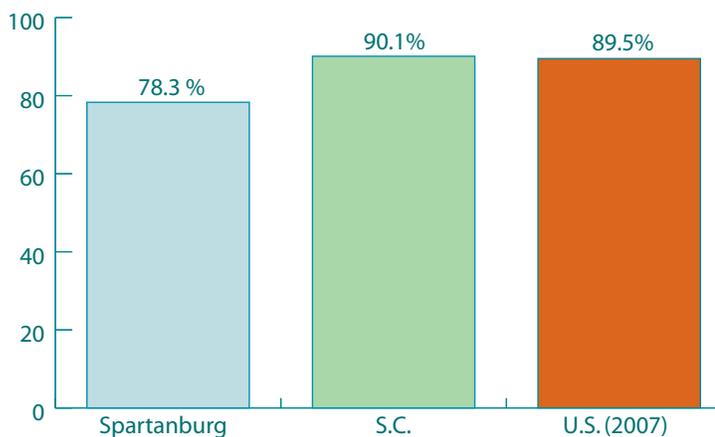

The reasons for teen pregnancy are complex and multifaceted; therefore, there is no one single solution. Our community response must be comprehensive – encouraging abstinence, providing proven-effective programs, and allowing sexually active youth access to contraception. “We in the community need to get over the idea that making birth control available to young people encourages their sexuality.”⁴ We need to provide “... our children the best information we can for them to be able to make good decisions – for their health, for their future – that’s our responsibility as parents and community members.”⁵ “Young people deserve the truth.”⁶

4. Frankie Mason, Retired Educator

5. Julie Lonon, School Board Member, School District 7

6. Phillip Hudson, Spartanburg Alcohol & Drug Abuse Commission

Students taught in school about AIDS or HIV^b

In 2007, 15% of Spartanburg County youth said they received sexual health information from their parents.

However, 66% of them wish their parents would talk to them about sex.^c

For more information, visit www.speakoutspartanburg.com or call (864) 573-9542

What Can We Do?

Visit www.speakoutspartanburg.com to hear more about what you can do.

“Being cooperative with your school system and school districts to help them to present a program that has been proven to be effective to reduce teen pregnancy is something that everyone can do.”

- Clarence Batts, retired CEO

“In any way that you can – through your own church, synagogue, civic group, business,...your donations – simply do what you can do and what you are comfortable with.” - Alex Evins, attorney

Provide opportunities “in which teens feel comfortable in coming to adults to talk about their challenges as teens, especially relating to sexuality and subjects like teen pregnancy.”

- Sheila Snoddy, Girl Scouts Mountains to Midlands

Churches should “...create an atmosphere where we can talk about teen pregnancy and not treat it as taboo...I know we think that, especially in churches, we shouldn’t talk about teen pregnancy, but that’s where we should talk about it. We, as ministers and pastors, should serve as a liaison for parents...and talk with children about it and let them know that it’s alright to be abstinent. It’s alright to be innocent; there’s nothing wrong with that.” - Dr. Charles J.J. Jackson, Cornerstone Baptist Church

“Be open and honest with your children. We, as parents, need to have this open conversation with our children and, when appropriate, talk about contraception.” - Dr. Gordon Sherard, OB-GYN

ONLINE RESOURCES

Faith Community

- National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy
www.thenationalcampaign.org/resources/faith.aspx
- SC Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy:
What Faith Leaders Can Do
<http://bit.ly/b8vVFv>
<http://bit.ly/9GJLU8>

Youth

- SC Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy
www.carolinateenhealth.org
www.teenpregnancysc.org
- Teen Talk
www.plannedparenthood.org/teen-talk/index.htm
- Teen Source
www.teensource.org
- Stay Teen
www.stayteen.org
- Amplify Your Voice
www.amplifyyourvoice.org

Parents

- SC Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy
www.teenpregnancysc.org/Parents
- Girlology: Knowledge is Empowerment
www.girlology.com
- Talking with Kids: Children Now
www.talkingwithkids.org

We would like to thank the community advocates below who generously shared their time with the Mary Black Foundation. They were asked to give their point of view about 1) why teen pregnancy prevention is so important in Spartanburg; 2) why they got involved to help combat teen pregnancy; and 3) how others can get involved to eliminate teen pregnancy in Spartanburg County. Please visit www.speakoutspartanburg.com to hear more of the views and ideas of these advocates.

Kathy Dunleavy
United Way, CEO

Alex Evins
Attorney

Norman Chapman
Inman Mills, CEO

Frankie Mason
Retired Educator

Julie Lonon
School Board, D7

Phillip Hudson
SADAC

Clarence Batts
Retired CEO

Sheila Snoddy
Girl Scouts

Dr. J.J. Jackson
Pastor

Gordon Sherard
OB-GYN

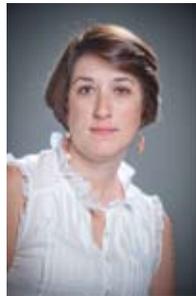

Duffy Baehr
Business Owner

Psyche Tidwell
Stylist

Ashley Lyles
Doula

Kristi Webb
Community Volunteer

Markeisha Nesbitt
High School Student

Sandra Oquendo
Pastor

Daniel Padgett
College Student

Data Sources

- SC Department of Health and Environmental Control, <http://scangis.dhec.sc.gov/scan/bdp/tables/birthtable.aspx>
- YRBS Spartanburg Presentation, www.maryblackfoundation.org
- Teen Pregnancy Prevention: Voices of Youth and Adults in Spartanburg County, 2008, SC Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy

Using this Report

Please acknowledge the Mary Black Foundation when using this report to increase awareness of teen pregnancy in Spartanburg County. Please download, save and distribute this report from our website, www.maryblackfoundation.org. The Foundation encourages readers to link to this report on websites and other social media outlets.

Photography: Carroll Foster, Hot Eye Photography, HotEyePhoto.com

Mary Black Foundation 349 East Main Street Suite 100 Spartanburg, SC 29302
Tel 864-573-9500 Fax 864-573-5805 www.maryblackfoundation.org